ames tveir is a classic modern multipurpose chair based upon an innovative moulding technique using 3-D veneer. It was important for us to go new ways and experiment with new technologies, shapes and materials. Every ames product be destined to connect with creativity and inspiration and not to be a simple addition. ames tveir has been developed into a complete collection of chairs in a wide variety of finishes. The comfortable and flexible 3D veneer shells of ames tveir can be front padding or in visible natural veneer oak, American walnut or beech, as well in black or white soft coating. The variety of frames: four-legged, column or sledge comes in shining chrome or powder coated with or without wood armrest. Except the column frame, ames tveir is stackable in all versions. Accessories like writing tables and linking device for the sledge chair complete the serie. ames tveir is suitable for use in Conference and meeting rooms, café, bar, private homes, lounges and offices areas.

pasión. not simple passion.

The common denominator of the regularly selected international designers behind the ames brand collection is the clearly structured formal language of their creative abilities. Their encounters with the ames brand are encounters with new creative impulses. Cool and precise linearity meets rhythmic drive. A build-up of tangible tension generated between contrasting poles. A tension far beyond simple inspiration.

ames®tveir

Iceland is a country with many mountains that change from each new angle. The weather and light also change the landscape from one minute to the next and you think you've suddenly been brought to a new place. My chair design is inspired by the landscape. My aim is to make people experience a variety of forms when viewing my design as if watching the Icelandic landscape. I like changes. Ames tveir is intended for people who like changes, one chair with many faces. A wooden chair on four legs for the dining room, another painted white on a runner frame in the kitchen and an upholstered chair on one column in the office. The appearance changes with every new angle and version. The same chair with many faces. (Erla Sólveig Oskarsdóttir)
